School board delays decision on health center

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Members of the Romulus Board of Education voted Monday night to postpone a decision on the proposed school-based teen health center until a public hearing can be scheduled.

In a crowded board room, members of the Romulus Adolescent Health Advisory Committee offered their recommendation for the controversial facility, outlining the project background,

"We have not withheld any information from any Romulus citizen. . . we are not trying to be sneaky."

— Evelyn Hopewell
RAHAC chairwoman

reasons behind the recommendation and opposition encountered.

If approved, the teen health center would be established at Romulus Senior High School.

- Immunizations
- Health screenings and follow-ups, including hearing and vision tests.
- Laboratory tests related to physical examinations including tests for pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases.

A wide range of additional services would be available in the areas of health education, substance abuse and mental health.

These services have been requested by teens, school staff members and parents through a survey distributed in the fall of 1988, according to Evelyn Hopewell, RAHAC chairwoman.

If approved, the facility would receive funding from a number of sources. The Michigan Department of Public Health, which provided the RAHAC with two planning grants, is expected to be a major contributor.

Hopewell said the committee has been accused of recommending birth control and abortion services and of undermining parental authority.

Providing birth control and abortion referrals in a school would be in violation of Michigan law.

"We have not withheld any information from any Romulus citizen...we are not trying to be sneaky," Hopewell said.

Hopewell also denied ties with Planned Parenthood.

"I find the need for quality health care is really great," Ruth Fairchild, district nurse, said.

Fairchild cites immunization as a critical area. Without

Local groups bring history to life

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

With more than 150 years behind it, Romulus is a community rich in history.

The city was home to an underground railroad stop, a little red schoolhouse, telegraph poles and steam-powered locomotives.

Because of this rich history, the Romulus Historical Society and the Romulus Historical Commission are kept busy educating residents about their heritage.

Together, Frederick and Helen Hay both offer a good representation of the local historic groups. Frederick is the historical commission chairman and Helen represents both historical groups.

The couple is currently knee-deep in plans for the Romulus Historical Park.

"It's going to replace a very blighted area," Helen said. "It was the former site of the Grey Iron Foundry. It was a terrible eyesore."

The property, near Hunt and Goddard roads, is owned by the city and has been slated for a miniature historical village.

The Carl W. Morriss Post Office building and the first Romulus schoolhouse have already been located on the site.

The schoolhouse, built in 1839 and originally located on Olive Street, is being restored by members of the historical society.

The entire city has joined in on the historical park project, Frederick said. City officials, businesspeople and residents have offered their support.

Funding for the project has come from community block grants and private donations, Helen said. By donating funds, residents become honorary members of the historical society.

The restoration project provides many opportunities for those interested in getting involved in history. Frederick, a history buff, enjoys doing the research, another supporter is a seamstress and she makes

Slaying suspect nets conviction

Robert Glazier, 33, the confessed slayer of an Ypsilanti prostitute, was convicted of first-degree murder in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Glazier, who faces the possibility of life imprisonment without parole, will be sentenced May 1 by Judge Michael Talbot.

Glazier also is being investigated in connection with slayings of women in Romulus and Ypsilanti.

The woman, Katherine Miyoko Anderson, 34, of Ann Arbor, was picked up by Glazier on Sept. 12, 1988, and driven to a field in Van Buren Township. Glazier said an argument over the price of a sex act led to a struggle over a gun and the slaying of the woman. Following the shooting, Glazier mutilated her body with an ax and steak knife.

At the time of the slaying, Glazier was on parole from prison for an unarmed robbery conviction. His record included convictions for breaking and entering and attempted breaking and entering.

Glazier was arrested by Van Buren Township Police a few hours after the slaying, when he drove near the scene and was stopped by police officers who observed an odor of alcohol on his breath. When Glazier stepped from the car, police officers noted a gun and knife in the vehicle and arrested Glazier on a concealed weapons charge.

Last month, 13 Van Buren Township police officers received recognition for their participation in the apprehension of the slaying suspect and investigation of the crime.

Program assists with repair bills

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

If a lack of funds is preventing homeowners from completing repairs on their home, the city may be able to provide some assistance.

The Romulus Housing Rehabilitation Program is designed to assist low- to moderate-income residents who need home repair but cannot afford it.

Interest-free grants are provided through the program, which is coordinated through the community development office with funding from the federal department of housing and urban development.

A waiting list is now being compiled for the funds. Interested residents should visit the community development office with the following documents:

- A 1988 income statement for everyone living in the house.
- Proof of homeowner's insurance.
- And proof of ownership.

City officials revise master plan, public hearing is scheduled

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

A revised master plan for Romulus will be presented for public comment later this month, according to city officials.

Dennis Meagher, of Community Planning and Management, Inc., has been working with members of the city planning commission for more than a year to update the plan.

"A master plan is a document that says this is how the city developed in the past...here's how we would like to develop in terms of goals and policies," Meagher said.

The master plan paints a rough picture of the development residents and officials would like to see within the next 20 or 30 years.

Once completed, the plan will offer comparisons between Romulus and other Southeast

Michigan communities in terms of population, housing and existing land use.

A meeting with city councilmembers and planning commission members has been slated for 7 p.m. April 10. At that time, councilmembers will offer their input on the plan.

A public hearing will be staged at 7 p.m. April 17. At that time residents will be encouraged to offer their ideas and concerns.

Following these meetings, final revisions will be made and a final draft of the master plan will be drawn.

The master plan serves only as a guide, Meagher said, it cannot contradict existing zoning ordinances.

Some suggestions for the new plan include mixed-used sites. For example, a 300-acre, county-owned parcel of land near Van Born and Merriman would be pegged for residential and commercial use. The development might include single- and multiple-family homes, a park, a golf course and several commercial buildings.

Another area targeted in the master plan is the Metro World Centre property along Wick Road near I-94. The development is slated to include office buildings, hotels, conference centers, a shopping center, a college facility and apartments.

The master plan will also emphasize residential development on the west side of town, a revitalized downtown area and a municipal recreation area with a new building and nearby city-owned golf course.

The new plan is more ambitious than the current plan, Meagher said. The plan now used by the city was completed in 1976.

McNamara names development team

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara has appointed several local business and political leaders to serve as board members on the Business Development Team of Wayne County.

Appointed to the board locally were Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard (D-Inkster), Jessie Moner, of Inkster Public Schools, Inkster Community Development Director Lillian Randolph, Huron Township Supervisor Christine Gamber and Rowe Electric President Ed Rowe.

Westland Mayor Charles T. Griffin was reappointed to the team.

The Business Development Team includes 24 members, representing 25 communities. Board members direct activities of several Wayne County Economic Development Department staff members and the Business Development Center at Schoolcraft College, in a cooperative program with the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Communities served include Belleville, Inkster, Wayne, Westland and Canton, Van Buren and Sumpter townships.

New buildings chief is a 1st

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara recently appointed Stanley M. Wyre as the director of Wayne County buildings. He is the first black person to be named to the post.

"We have the best of both worlds in Stan," McNamara said. "Very seldom does one individual possess the dual technical and legal expertise to plan projects and execute contracts all under the same heading. I am convinced that he is ideally well-suited for the position."

The 36-year-old attorney is a member of the Wolverine Bar Association, Detroit Bar Association, National Bar Association, the Construction Specifications Institute and the Engineering Society of Detroit. He is married and has an 11-year-old daughter.

Recreation bond program discussed

The proposed administrative rules for the Michigan recreation bond program, made possible by the passage of Proposal D last November, will be discussed today by members of the Governor's Recreation Advisory Committee.

The committee is a 15-member body appointed by Gov. James Blanchard to advise him and officials at the state Department of Natural Resources on statewide recreation issues.

The meeting is slated from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Warren Valley Golf Course, 26116 W. Warren Road, between Inkster and Beech Daly roads, in Dearborn Heights.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Funds budgeted for county judges

An additional $1,295 for each Wayne County Circuit Court judge and $1,925 for each recorder's court judge has been allocated in the Wayne County budget, as a result of pay increases enacted at the state level.

County judges receive a portion of their pay from the county and the balance from the state budget, according to Kent Badey, administrator for the county courts.

The money paid by the county is later reimbursed by the state, Brady said.

"It's a complicated process, but, basically, local portions are paid through the county and then reimbursed," Badey said.

Wayne County commissioners approved March 28 budget changes which reflect the increased county contributions.

Circuit court judges will earn $95,220 this year. The county portion of that salary is $38,295, an increase from $37,000 last year.

The local contribution for recorder's court judges will be $56,925, an increase from $55,000 last year.

The salary increases were effective Jan. 1.

Area 'out of game' for new county jail

By BARBARA WILSON
ANP News Editor

Only two "players" remain in the site-selection process for the new Wayne County jail, according to county officials. Western Wayne County is now "out of the game."

Hamtramck and Highland Park are the final two contenders for the 840-bed minimum-security facility, county officials said.

"We had settled on the Hamtramck site last week, but we learned that a main gas-line runs under the property," Deputy Wayne County Executive Michael Duggan said.

Another site in Hamtramck remains a possibility, as do two sites in Highland Park.

Because of the sudden problem with the Hamtramck site, Duggan said, a final site-decision will be made within one week. County officials had hoped to already pinpoint a jail site.

Westland and Romulus, once considered as possible sites for the facility, were dismissed from contention when local city officials and residents voiced opposition to the proposal.

Westland Mayor Charles Griffin learned last week that the Eloise property, on Michigan Avenue at Merriman, in Westland, is officially no longer being considered as a possible jail site, Griffin said.

"Now, we can go ahead with our plans," Griffin explained.

The Eloise site is currently being studied as a site for an airport-related commercial and industrial district.

Romulus city councilmembers approved a resolution several months ago indicating their opposition to a jail in Romulus.

Local motel is robbed

Two employees of a Romulus motel on the 31000 block of Wick Road were tied up with telephone wire and robbed at gunpoint early Friday morning.

The two suspects reportedly entered the motel through a rear entrance which is locked at night, leading police to believe they had a key.

The employees were not injured, according to police officials.

The suspects made off with cash and jewelry of an undetermined amount, and fled, officials said.

One of the employees was able to free himself and call police.

The first suspect is described as a black male, approximately six feet tall, medium build wearing a white stocking cap with red trim, blue jeans and a light brown jacket. He was carrying a rusty-colored long gun, possibly a .22 caliber.

The second suspect is also described as a black male, between 5-foot-6-inches and 5-foot-9-inches. He reportedly has a heavy build and was wearing a green stocking cap, an army coat and dark trousers. Police believe he also had a gun.

This case remains under investigation.

Cable channel undergoes change

Members of city council concurred with the recommendation of the Romulus Cable Commission to designate cable Channel 40 as a City Government Channel.

Commission members questioned whether the Romulus cable channel was a government channel or for public access. Councilmembers agreed to designate the existing channel for government use and approve a second channel for public access.

Chief Dansby settles in to new community

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

After three months with the Romulus Police Department, Chief Fred Dansby is starting to feel at home.

Dansby left his position as Westland Police Chief in January to replace retired Romulus chief Charles Wilmoth.

"I'm still learning," Dansby said.

The support of the community and the administration have been helpful, Dansby said.

He would like to see more positive involvement between the department and local young people, however. Avenues for such involvement include the drug education program, DARE, the Junior Police and the cadet program.

This summer, Dansby said, cadets will help patrol the city for the first time.

This involvement with youth can be linked to the need to battle drugs in the community, Dansby said.

"Perhaps by education, that's the best chance of reducing drug use," Dansby said.

The airport has been a second challenge for Dansby. Although Romulus does not have the extensive growth which he had to deal with in Westland, the airport creates an influx of people on a daily basis.

Within the next few years, Dansby anticipates a larger and busier department.

"It's going to keep growing as the needs grow," Dansby said.

Because of this growth, he would like to see the department in a new station soon.

"There is a definite need for a police station. This is an elementary school...It's just not conducive to serving as a police department."

Residents dump trash with no charge

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

City officials have dumped a two-month provision for free use of trash disposal facilities for Romulus residents, reducing it to one month.

In past years, the no-fee privilege was offered to encourage residents to clean up their property during the spring and summer months. Residents were not charged for dumping trash at the city dump site through July and August of 1987 and May and June of 1988.

The city, through the Department of Public Works, spent $37,815 for the dumping and transfer of DPW dumpsters during the period of free dumping, according to James Panos, DPW director.

Panos initially recommended that the free service be discontinued altogether. But if that was not acceptable to city officials and residents, he suggested limiting free use of the dumping facilities to one month each year.

Steve Banko, ordinance director and chairperson of the Beautification Committee, concurred with the one-month recommendation.

and I realize that we are all trying to live within the limitations of our budget," he stated in a letter to Panos. "By having free dumping for the month of May, we will still be giving our residents the time and opportunity to do the cleanup necessary without a great deal of cost to them."

Residents of Romulus will be permitted to dump tree clippings, leaves, etc. free of charge during the month of May. The dump site, 34100 Goddard, will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A waiting period of two to six months should be expected after filing the application.

An inspection of the home will be necessary before a loan is awarded.

"It needs to be brought to 1988 new housing standards," planner Jeffery Martell said.

The inspector will determine what types of repairs are necessary to bring the home into compliance with housing codes.

Bids are accepted on each repair project and the low bidder is awarded the contract.

The repair bills are paid with funds from the rehabilitation grant and a lien is placed on the house. Money for the repairs to the house does not have to be repayed until the house is sold. The money must be paid in a lump sum at that time, but no interest is charged.

Approximately $180,000 in rehabilitation money has been distributed, Martell said. When it is repaid, the money will go back into the loan account.

"We provide decent, safe and sanitary housing," Martell said.

More information on the program can be obtained by calling the community development office at 942-7545.

Being involved in Romulus history is especially significant for Frederick and Helen. Frederick has been a businessman and active resident in the area since 1939. Helen has lived in Romulus all of her life, along with six generations of her family before her. Helen's great-grandfather helped build the city.

Working with the historical organizations provides Helen and Frederick with a true sense of heritage and they encourage others to participate as well.

"It gives you some sense of security, of who you are," Helen said.

proper immunization, students can be excluded from class three times during the year. The most recent count of students excluded from school due to improper immunization was taken March 8. Thirty-six students were taken out of class, Fairchild said.

"We definitely need something for these kids," Fairchild said.

The study of Romulus teens revealed several reasons for lack of proper health care, including lack of transportation, lack of money, conflicting schedules, embarrassment and a lack of parental support.

"We have a lot of facilities around but nothing for Romulus kids. There's no way to get there," Fairchild said.

Currently, 16 teen health centers are operating in Michigan, according to Judy Cavell, who represents RAHAC and Heritage Hospital of Taylor. Each center has a sponsor, chosen by the advisory council or local board of education. The sponsor is responsible for employing a staff and administering funds.

Of the 16 Michigan centers, six are school based and three are on school property, Cavell said.

The daily operation of the center would be directed by an advisory council appointed by the board of education. That advisory council would, most likely, include parents.

School election deadline nears

Romulus residents have until 4 p.m. Monday to file petitions for a position on the school board. The school election will be June 12.

Two seats will be open for election. They currently belong to Dan Bales, secretary, and Sandra Langley. The incumbents have already obtained petitions.

Ronald Oleszkowicz has also obtained a petition.

Those interested in seeking a school board post may obtain petitions from Romulus City Clerk Linda Choate.

The election is open to all registered voters in Romulus. To qualify for candidacy, at least 20 certified signatures must be obtained on a petition. Only registered voters can sign the petition.

"It's a very simple procedure," Choate said.

If the petition is turned in on time with the proper signatures, the petitioner's name goes on the ballot.

Health watch

Health-conscious Romulus residents were provided with free health screenings at the Romulus Senior Center Monday. Residents' blood pressure, cholesterol and blood sugar levels all received a once-over from health-care professionals. The services were provided by staff from Annapolis Hospital, of Wayne, through United Care. Free blood-pressure screening is provided the first Monday of every month at the center. The other screenings were part of a special health day at the center. The tests were available to all residents including Ted Gilliland (above) who is tested by registered nurse Rose Lebbon. Countywide issues are forum topic

Troubled youth, the new Wayne County jail and solid waste were among the topics discussed by Wayne County commissioners at a legislative forum March 30.

Representatives of Canton

Township, Plymouth Township, Inkster, Westland and Romulus attended the forum to gain insight into goals for the county.

Commissioner Bernard Kilpatrick discussed plans for the

Wayne County Youth Resource Center and a proposed youth academy designed to youths considered "salvageable."

The resource center, which will receive additional funds from a recently approved millage, serves youngsters 13 and younger who live at home, but are considered too disruptive for school.

The proposed youth academy would provide education and counseling services to troubled youth.

The Wayne County Solid Waste Implementation Committee was also discussed at the forum. Commissioners confirmed the need for quick action on this matter.

Romulus band leader goes 'extra mile'

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Robert James has come a long way from strumming pencils on pots and pans to the beat of old Beatles tunes.

These days James is directing five bands at Romulus Senior High School, successful bands at that. The symphony band recently took a division-1 rating at the Michigan School Band Orchestra Assembly (MSBOA) Festival. Band members go to state competition April 29.

The Romulus Concert Band received a division-2 rating at the district competition.

The other bands - intermediate, marching and jazz - are also going strong, he said.

James' dedication to the student musicians was recently recognized as well. He was presented with the district Extra Miler Award.

The award is presented each month by the board of education.

James, sitting in an office cluttered with papers and pictures of his students, said music has been a long-time love of his.

"Ever since junior high, probably earlier," James said.

"The first instrument I ever played was the guitar," he said.

He lived in Kentucky then and moved back and forth from local rock bands and school bands.

As a student at the University of Michigan, James studied woodwind instruments - the clarinet, the flute and the saxophone - but he has not given up the guitar.

James admits his dreams of becoming a musician did not include reams of paperwork and student reports. But teaching young people to appreciate music is worth the hassle.

"Working with the real talented kids, watching them change over four years is great," James said.

James deals with a wide range of talent in his classes. From the very gifted to those who want to belong to a group. Each student provides a new challenge.

As a teacher, James has had a few success stories. A student from his very first graduating class is now a professional drummer.

"I've got some others out there I'm expecting great things from," he said.

In the meantime, music students at the high school can expect great things every day, as James takes center stage.

Kindergarten
Registration begins, parents should prepare

By THOMAS M. VARCIE
ANP Staff Writer

With kindergarten registration around the corner, local educators are encouraging parents to put the finishing touches on their children's pre-kindergarten education.

Children entering kindergarten should already be able to take care of many of their own personal needs such as, tying their shoes, dressing themselves and using the bathroom, according to Dr. Terrel LeCesne, assistant superintendent for administrative services of Romulus Community Schools.

The child should also know their first and last name, their telephone number and their address before starting kindergarten.

There are also some other lessons which parents can teach as the child grows up which will help him or her when it is time for that first day of school.

Parents should teach the child educational values and lessons, according to Shirley Spaniel, executive director of elementary education for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

"I talk to parents a lot about different activities they can do to get their child interested in school. The biggest thing though is to get them to read. Once they can read at an early age, they usually won't have many problems," Spaniel said. "What parents do with their children is very important."

Spaniel offers the following tips to parents as they prepare their children for school.

• Always talk to the children, even when they are first born. Talk to them about things they've done during the day and talk about things they've done in the house. Use the language;

• Listen to the children and be observant. Verbal children make good readers; and

• Take the children places and broaden their scope of knowledge. Help them learn about the world by seeing it.

While these are suggestions which should be followed through the entire pre-school experience, there are a few things parents should do throughout the summer months to prepare kindergartners-to-be.

Before school begins, children should be made familiar with the route to the bus stop. Parents should walk their child to the bus stop until they are comfortable with the surroundings and with route. The same applies to students who will walk to school.

Diet and rest are imperative to youngsters just starting school. Parents should establish a schedule in the summer which will be kept through the school year.

At the time of registration, several requirements must be met, according to Dan Slee, executive director for student services of Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

First, children must be up-to-date with immunizations and parents must present proper documentation of these immunizations. Parents must also bring along a birth certificate and proof that a physical examination was completed.

Kindergarten registration for most school districts will begin in late April and continue through May. Check with the principal of your neighborhood school for specific dates.

JUST ONE GOOD AD

Have you ever thought, "If I could find one good ad, I could quadruple my sales!"? Have you ever inquired about how you might find that right ad? If you have, you've probably been told that the only way is by trial and error.

But, what if a group of small advertisers in a number of cities got together and each tried a few ads sharing their results with each other? If one finds a "block buster" it can be used by the others successfully also. This would be testing in a Co-op method. Together advertisers perform one massive test that they could not possibly afford individually. Co-op works successfully wherever tried. It can work in the advertising industry also.

Tornado time: Police officials give spring-weather advice

With one early tornado watch already signaled this season, Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter issued a list of safety tips for area residents.

First, Dockter reminded residents, a "tornado watch means tornadoes are expected to develop and a tornado warning means one has actually been sighted." Tornadoes often accompany severe thunderstorms, he said, and dangers are present from heavy downpours, flash floods, strong winds, hail storms and lightning, which can start fires and injure or kill those it strikes.

The "watch" signal, Dockter said, means there is a chance of dangerous weather with damaging winds. The "warning" should alert individuals to be on the lookout for the danger signals and be ready to move quickly to safety if the warning sign is given.

The "warning" signal means a tornado has been sighted, and individuals should go to a shelter area - or take appropriate precautions if a designated shelter is not available.

Tornado danger signals are:

- Severe thunderstorms, including thunder, lightning, heavy rains and strong winds;
- Hail - pellets of ice from dark-clouded skies;
- Roaring noise, like numerous railroad locomotives or a crashing, thunderous sound, and
- A funnel-shaped cloud which appears like a dark, spinning rope or column from the sky to the ground.

Whether or not an official warning has been issued, the police chief said, individuals should seek immediate shelter if these signs are seen or heard.

The police chief advised residents to listen for updates on tornado advisories on area radio and television broadcasts.

In the event of a tornado, Dockter said, individuals should seek shelter - preferably in a cellar, underground excavation or in a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building.

Those who find themselves in office buildings when a tornado warning is issued, should stand in an interior hallway on a lower floor or, if possible in a basement, the police chief advised.

Area residents who receive a tornado warning should go to the basement or to an interior part of the lowest level - a closet, bathroom or interior hall - of their homes.

In the event there is no shelter available, individuals should place themselves on the ground in the nearest ditch, ravine or culvert with their hands shielding their heads.

"Better safe than sorry," the police chief warned, noting that individuals should prepare for emergencies when they hear or see the tornado signs and signals.

Auto thefts: Areawide unit makes progress in crime effort

By TERRY JACOBY
ANP Staff Writer

Car thieves don't remain inside city limits, and that is one reason for the Western Wayne Auto Theft Unit.

"Automobile theft is extremely mobile," Lt. Sandy Miller, commander of the auto unit, said. "Most of the time someone will steal a car from one community and take it to another community. This would make it extremely difficult for an individual department to investigate."

As a result, area communities joined with officials from the Michigan State Police and formed the unit in May 1987.

The communities of Wayne, Westland, Romulus, Northville and Northville Township each supply an officer to the unit. Canton Township provides services for the unit, such as man-

Progress report: Western Wayne auto thefts

Local public-safety officials are giving themselves high marks, after reviewing a report of the numbers of auto thefts compiled in 1988 compared to years past.

One reason cited for the slight overall decline is the Western Wayne County Auto Theft Task Force, established in 1987.

Narcotics unit helps curb local drug woes

By TERRY JACOBY
ANP Staff Writer

The drug problem is not unique to Detroit. Crackhouses and dealers are becoming more prevalent in the suburbs, according to public safety officials, and combatting the problem is a challenge faced by all local police departments.

"It's all around us and it's a very serious problem," said Lt. John Shewell, of the Michigan State Police Department. "We could be working 24 hours a day and keep very busy. It's the same in this area as it is anywhere else."

Shewell is the unit commander for the Western Wayne Narcotics Unit, a drug team which concentrates its efforts on communities in western Wayne County. It consists of officers from Wayne, Westland, Canton Township, Livonia, Garden City and Van Buren Township.

The unit also services Belleville, Northville and Plymouth, which contribute financially.

Since the unit began operation in October 1986, it has made 208 felony arrests and confiscated more than $1 million worth of narcotics.

From 1987 to 1988, unit officers made 71 arrests for the delivery of cocaine and 19 arrests for possession with intent to deliver cocaine.

"It (cocaine) is what's popular," Shewell said. "The majority of our arrests deals with the delivery of what is called uncut cocaine."

From 1986 to 1987, the unit made 95 arrests for delivery of cocaine and 14 arrests for possession with intent to deliver cocaine.

The problem has grown too big for individual police departments to handle and that is why the unit was formed.

"The biggest advantage is there are no jurisdiction restrictions and it benefits the departments that aren't big enough to spend the time needed," Shewell said.

Most arrests, Shewell said, involve individuals who are linked to other crimes as well.

"Each person we arrest for drugs is usually a thief or involved in other crime, even violent crimes," Shewell said. "And a lot of these people go to jail, some don't. We concentrate on the dealers through undercover work that could take days or even months depending on the case."

Shewell said the unit has been successful even with a shortage of manpower.

"I think we have been extremely successful, and I believe it will continue to be successful," he said. "Our goal is to continue our work and prosecute as many people as we can for selling drugs."

Bus routes change in regional transit plan

By BARBARA WILSON
ANP News Editor

Bus-route changes are the first official actions taken by members of the newly formed Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation, also known as SMART.

Maps and bus schedules are available at some city halls, libraries and shopping centers in the area. SMART is the regional mass-transportation agency which replaced the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority - SEMTA - last year.

Local bus-route changes include the following:

- Route 185/Westland-Dearborn-Ecorse will operate one to two minutes earlier on the westbound trek between Fort/Southfield and Westland. Most eastbound trips will leave Westland and Cherry Hill/ Wayne one minute earlier.
- Route 285/Middlebelt will be changed on some weekday and Saturday night trips. On weekdays, the 8:02 p.m. southbound trip will end at Middlebelt and Michigan Avenue at 8:37 p.m. It will not proceed to Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The northbound trip leaving the airport at 8:52 p.m. will be discontinued. The trip leaving the airport at 9:52 p.m. will be extended north to Middlebelt and Plymouth Road, arriving there at 10:15 p.m.

On Saturdays, the 7:56 p.m. southbound trip will end at Middlebelt and Michigan Avenue at 8:33 p.m. It will not continue to the airport.

The northbound trip leaving the airport at 8:48 p.m. will be discontinued. The trip leaving the airport at 9:52 p.m. will be extended to Middlebelt and Plymouth Road, arriving there at 10:15 p.m.

Members of the SMART Board of Directors, which represent participating Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, have also changed non-Wayne County fares and the various zones covered by the bus system.

The route changes will affect local Park and Rides 810 and 820.

The changes, according to SMART representatives, are designed to increase the efficiency of the transit system.

SMART provides service to Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties and added services to outlying areas.

aging the finances.

Other communities, including Belleville, Van Buren, Sumpter Township, Huron Township, Plymouth and Redford, receive the services of the unit and provide funds when needed.

The unit also includes four detectives and three lieutenants from the state police.

The Automobile Theft Prevention Authority, which was established in 1986, funds the unit through a $1 fee from all insured motorists. The money is put into an auto theft fund and disbursed among different units through auto theft grants.

The unit has been very successful, according to Miller.

From May 1987 through December 1988, 69 arrests have been made and 154 vehicles with a street value of $2,199,604 have been recovered.

"We have far exceeded our goals in the first year and are well on our way this year," Miller said. "Based on averages of what other units are doing, we are looking very good."

The unit is broken down into two parts - a conspiracy team and a surveillance team.

The conspiracy team is responsible for long-term investigations including detection, apprehension and prosecution of suspects. Their top priority is chop-shop investigation and investigation of major auto theft rings.

"A chop-shop could be someone's garage, a rented storage area or business-type garage where they rid the cars of their identification tags or they dismantled the cars," Miller explained.

"For the most part a chop shop is aimed at dismantling the vehicles for parts to sell them on the black market."

THERE IS A MATERIAL DIFFERENCE

YOUR EYES AND YOU

By Jeffrey J. Kovan, M.D.

What is a Cataract?

A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens in the eye. Since a cloudy lens blocks the passage of light rays to the back of the eye or retina, it interferes with vision.

What causes cataracts?

There are many causes of cataracts, but AGING is by far the major cause.

How many people are affected by cataracts?

Over 1 million cataract operations are performed each year in the United States.

How is the vision affected?

The early symptoms of cataracts are hazy, fuzzy, blurred or double vision.

Your eyes may be sensitive to light and glare, making night driving difficult.

What is the treatment of cataracts?

When a cataract begins to interfere with your life style, it is time to remove them. Microsurgery is the only way to remove cataracts. (Contrary to widespread belief, a laser can never remove a primary cataract). When the cataract is removed a new lens must be substituted.

How successful is cataract surgery?

95% of all people who have cataracts removed have improved vision with surgery.

FOCUS: BOATS AND RECREATIONAL VEHICLES

Buying the dock is new rule for boats

By THOMAS M. VARCIE
ANP Staff Writer

The growing popularity of boating and the lack of space in which to store boats has prompted a new concept in boat storage.

"Dockominiums" can be purchased along lakes for boat storage, rather than the more traditional system of renting.

At most major commercialized lakes, boatwells - or slips where boats are docked daily during warmer months - are in high demand, according to Jim Soncrant, real estate broker for dockominiums at Toledo Beach Marina, in LaSalle, approximately 15 miles south of Toledo. The demand has forced the rent on these spaces to skyrocket, Soncrant said.

"A couple weeks ago here, we had the annual allocation of the slips and people were camped out all night to get the rentals," Soncrant said.

"The demand is so high for the slips that the national rental average has been increasing 15 percent each boating season for the past few years," Soncrant said. "It's not a simple process to just create a boatwell. Because of that, the spaces are limited, causing higher fees."

With dockominium, boaters can purchase their storage space and avoid the hassle of fighting over space when the season begins.

"The dockominium concept allows the boaters to buy the space and not worry about renting. In very real terms, they own that slip. It is their's," Soncrant said.

The parent company of Toledo Beach Marina, Marina-Consult, in Cautumet, Mass., has been the prime developer of the dockominium concept.

"This is a great project for the Great Lakes. We saw the Great Lakes area was just right for this concept," Soncrant said.

Individuals who are interested in owning a dockominium can contact the Toledo Beach Marina.

Like cars, houses, boats and recreational vehicles, dockominium space prices vary. Spaces measure from 30 feet in length to 75 feet in length, with eight different slip sizes available.

Prices range from $700 to $1,100 per linear foot of the slip. Thus a 30-foot slip at $700 would cost $21,000.

Outdoors fun close to home

Metroparks offer fun for everyone

By FLORENCE WEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

As temperatures rise, thoughts of biking, swimming, camping and golfing start interrupting the winter blahs.

With that in mind, officials at the Huron-Clinton Metroparks are gearing up for their busy season. Several local parks are netting improvements already, according to Richard Sobecki, assistant park superintendent.

A water slide will be ready for use by Memorial Day at the Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville. The slide will be approximately 16 feet high and 125 feet long. Also slated for the park is a five-mile bicycle trail extending between entrances at Hannan and Waltz roads. The trail is expected to be completed by early fall.

At the Willow Metropark near New Boston, parking lots and paths for the Chestnut and Indian Ridge picnic areas will be resurfaced this spring, meaning less dust for picnickers.

Roads in the Oakwood Metropark in Huron Township will be repaved.

Along with improving local parks, officials have planned a number of activities for the warm-weather months. The Willow Activity Center has a full slate of events.

- Square dancing under the moonlight will be offered from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m. every Friday from June 2 through August 11. "We teach anybody," Sobecki remarked.
- Bluegrass musician Bob White will perform at the center from 6:30 to 11 p.m. June 3. The following performances will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m.
- June 17, Fire Power, a top 40 and funk group.
- June 24, for rhythm and blues fans, Living Room Blues.
- July 1, reggae band Tropic-al Connection.
- July 8, The Boys, specializing in music from the '50s and '60s.
- July 15, The Danny Vann Show, a tribute to Elvis Presley.
- July 22, Family Portrait, rock music.
- July 28, The Detroit Symphony Orchestra.
- July 29, Big Daddy, polka music.
- Aug. 5, Merry Makers, big band music.
- Aug. 12, Charles and Gwen, top 40 and jazz.
- Aug. 19, The Boys, music from the '50s and '60s.

In addition, Independence Day festivities are planned for the center.

- From 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. Kelly Lynn Garver and Southbound, a country group, will perform.

Swimming pools at Willow and Lower Huron parks will open May 27. Weather permitting, golf courses at the parks will open April 14.

A daily fee of $2 is charged for access to the park. An annual pass can be purchased for $10.

Food

Even Eve had the right idea

just desserts

sue willett

There is no temptation like dessert. Ask any dieter, and you'll find out in short order that nothing is as dangerous to calorie calculation as desserts. Be it brownies or flaming crepes suzette, many a strong will has fallen to the irresistible aroma of chocolate wafting from a cookie jar.

Most tempting of all, next to chocolate, of course, are apple concoctions which can be as simple as a cobbler or as complicated as a soufflé. It doesn't matter. And the recent publicity and threat of the carcinogenic fertilizer Alar being used on this staple of the American diet has had little or no impact on apple consumption. There are very few people who can resist the temptation of a big, red shiny apple (remember Adam?) and reports of those strong enough to say no to apple pie are few and far between.

There isn't anything, however, that can't be improved upon. This upside down apple pie brings raves and moans of pleasure from everyone ever lucky enough to taste it. Several very famous local celebrity chefs have recipes for a similar treat, and many prompt smiles when they claim to have "created" this treat.

It is an excellent ending for any meal, formal, casual and even picnics. It does, however, taste even more spectacular when served warm with sweetened whipped cream, but then everything does, doesn't it?

This recipe, in an effort to make preparation even more simple, calls for the use of pre packaged pie crusts. Frankly, it is better with a wonderful butter or lard-based pie crust and a few more pecans. Many of the "inventors" of this treat also suggest placing the nuts in the bottom of the pan in decorative patterns and baking the pie in an iron skillet. To each his own, and this simplified version works well and is quick, although the investment in time for homemade crust does provide noticeable results.

Upside-down apple pie

For the glaze:

- 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon corn syrup
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted
- 1/4 cup pecan halves
- 15-ounce package prepared pie crusts
- 1 teaspoon flour

For the filling:

- 2/3 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 4 cups peeled, sliced apples

Heat oven to 425 degrees. In a 9-inch pie pan, combine brown sugar, corn syrup and butter. Spread evenly over bottom of pan. Arrange pecans over mixture in pan. Prepare pie crust according to package directions for two-crust pie. Place bottom crust over mixture in pan.

In small bowl, combine sugar, 2 tablespoons flour and cinnamon and mix well. Arrange half of apple slices in pie crust-lined pan and sprinkle with half of sugar mixture. Repeat with remaining apple slices and sugar mixture. Top with second crust and seal and flute. Cut slits in several places. Bake at 425 degrees for 8 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 375 degrees and bake for an additional 24 to 30 minutes or until apples are tender crust is golden brown. Place pan on foil or cookie sheet during baking to guard against spillage. Loosen edge of pie and carefully invert onto serving plate. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream.

Great taste is 'a piece of cake'

Baking is art form to this area woman

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Cake is more than just a baked good to Debbie Wilkerson. It is a canvas on which she unleashes her full creative potential.

Wilkerson, a resident of Van Buren Township, has turned her love for baking into a profitable skill — professional cake-decorating.

She learned to decorate cakes from her mother, a 30-year veteran of the craft. Wilkerson started decorating cakes 10 years ago. Now, she is hooked.

She makes her special cakes for all sorts of special occasions, ranging from weddings to the big local football game.

"I made a cake shaped like a football field. It even had little players," she said, proudly.

Other cake creations are documented in a photo album. While paging through it, Wilkerson points to her more elaborate works, including cakes with several levels, unusual shapes and connecting "staircases."

The secret of her success, Wilkerson said, goes beyond looks.

"I always make sure my cakes are fresh. People are always pleased. They almost expect a frozen flavor," she said.

Wilkerson studied cake decorating, but the skill is something which develops with practice, she explained.

"It's years of practice. It's not something I can tell you how to do," Wilkerson said.

The actual cake making is also time-consuming. Wilkerson spends 20 hours working on an average cake, 36 hours on a large one.

"The reward? I like the responses I get," she said.

Wilkerson does not keep her decorated cake creations in the house, but she does have some favorite cake recipes which she shares with her family.

The recipes below are not for professional decorating but are mouth watering, just the same. Wilkerson's favorite is the mountain dream cake, a recipe passed down from her grandmother, who lives in West Virginia.

Chocolate-filled cupcakes

- 3/4 cup flour
- 3/4 cup sugar

- 1/3 cup cocoa
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 3/4 cup buttermilk
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/3 cup chopped nuts

For the filling:

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg

Combine filling ingredients thoroughly with spoon. In separate bowl, cream shortening and sugar. Add egg and mix dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk. Fill paper-lined muffin tins with approximately 1/2 tablespoon chocolate mixture, 1 teaspoon of cheese topping. In center of cup, sprinkle a few nuts. Cupcakes should be baked in 350-degree oven until tops are brown, about 30 minutes.

Mountain dream cake

- 5 egg whites beaten and set aside
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 5 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 2 cups shredded coconut
- 1 cup pecans

For the frosting:

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese
- 1 stick margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 small box powdered sugar

Beat sugar, shortening and margarine. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add vanilla. In separate bowl, mix flour, baking soda. Add to sugar mixture alternately with buttermilk. Beat well. Fold in coconut, pecans and egg whites. Pour into three 9-inch pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool and frost.

For frosting, make sure cream cheese and margarine are at room temperature. Combine first three frosting ingredients and beat well. Add sugar. Continue beating until smooth. Cake keeps well in refrigerator or freezer.

Pie crust

- 3 cups flour
- 1 1/4 cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon salt

- 5 tablespoons cold water
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vinegar

Cut together flour, shortening and salt. Then combine water, egg and vinegar and add to flour mixture. Mix well and divide into balls to be rolled into 3 or 4 pie shells, depending on size and thickness desired.

The following recipes were contributed by Dollie Reed, Wilkerson's mother. These dishes, like a cake, are ideal for large gatherings.

Potato rolls

- 1 package dry yeast
- 1 1/2 cup warm water
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2/3 cup shortening
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup lukewarm mashed potato
- 7 1/2 cups flour

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Mixing after each is added. Add eggs and potato. Then add approximately 4 cups flour. Beat well. Add remaining flour. Turn out on floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turn once. Cover tightly. Refrigerate 4 to 8 hours. (This step is not necessary, but it allows you to begin the rolls one night in advance). Punch dough down. Grease muffin tin. Form rolls by pinching 3 balls into cloverleaf shape. Let dough rise 1 hour. Dust lightly with flour and bake in 400-degree oven 15 to 25 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 2 1/2 to 3 dozen rolls.

Swedish meatballs

- 3 pounds ground beef
- 1/2 pound pork sausage
- 1 diced onion
- salt
- pepper
- 3 cups seasoned bread crumbs
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 4 teaspoons garlic salt
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 1/3 cup sour cream
- 1/3 cup milk
- 1 large can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup sour cream

Mix together all but last three ingredients. Shape into small meatballs. Brown in skillet, a few at a time. Remove. Place in baking dishes. Combine last three ingredients and pour over meatballs. Simmer in 325-degree oven for 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Makes 80 to 85 meatballs.

Special salad

- 1 24-ounce container cottage cheese, small curd
- 1 small lemon jello, dry (other flavors can be used)
- 1 can crushed pineapple, drained
- 1 medium container cool whip
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Mix all ingredients well. Let mixture set at least 2 hours in refrigerator before serving.

Here is a popular cake perfect for a large crowd or savoring at home.

Carrot cake with cream-cheese frosting

- 2 cups unsifted flour
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons cinnamon
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup corn oil
- 4 cups finely grated raw carrots (8 or 9)
- Frosting:
- 8 ounces softened cream cheese
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- Extra-large pecan halves for decoration

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter and flour 3, 8-inch round cake pans. Thoroughly stir together flour, sugar, soda, salt and cinnamon. Set aside. In a large mixing bowl, beat eggs until frothy, slowly beat in oil. Gradually add flour mixture, beating until smooth. Add the carrots and blend. Pour into the prepared cake pans. Bake for 30 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool in pans for 10 minutes. Remove to cake racks and let cool. To make the frosting: Blend first 5 ingredients well, spread some frosting on each layer, also sprinkling chopped pecans over each. Assemble layers and frost top and sides. Decorate the top with pecan halves.

Happy birthday! Birthing room is a success

By TERRY JACOBY
ANP Staff Writer

More than 1,000 babies have made their debut at the Annapolis Hospital Birthing Center since it opened a year ago this month.

The center was designed to provide a more comfortable, convenient atmosphere for women to experience the birth of their child. Since its opening, mothers have delivered their babies to the delight and satisfaction of both parents, according to Bevis Richardson, a registered nurse and Lamaze childbirth coordinator for the Birthing Center.

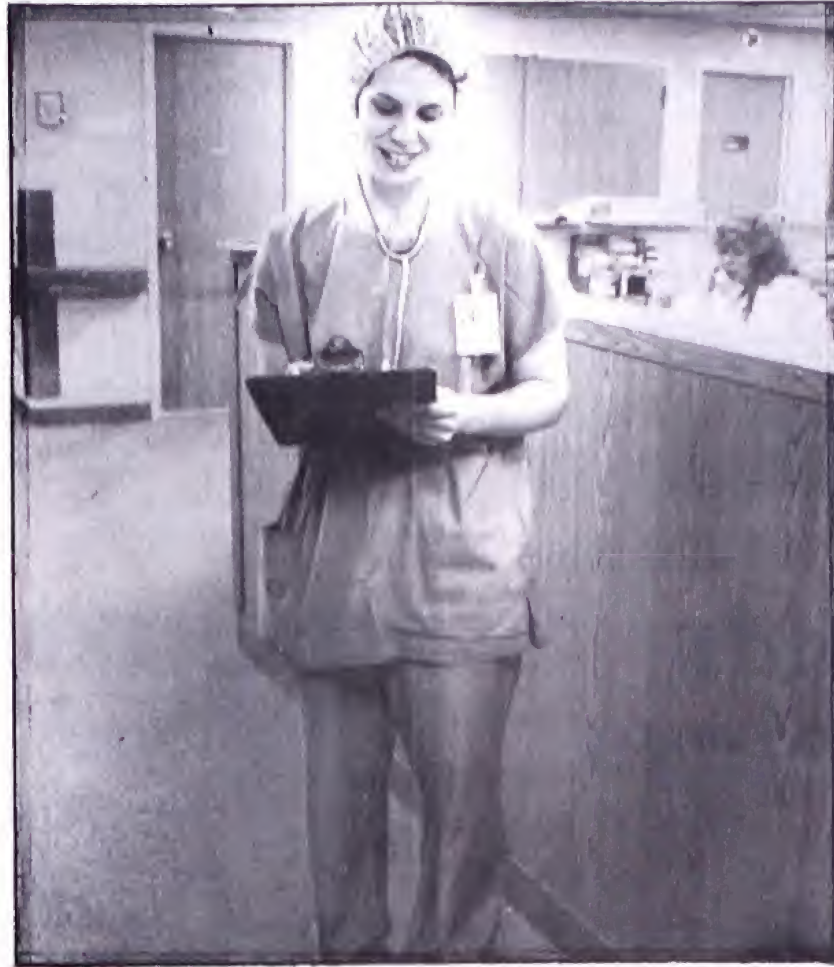

"The biggest change for mothers is not having to move from a labor room to a delivery room before delivery," Richardson said.

"Those who have had a baby both ways have really liked the new birthing rooms. Both traditional labor and delivery options are also still available," she said.

The hospital is celebrating the birthday of the center with community tours. The tours begin at noon every Saturday, but alternative times are available. Those who are interested, may call 467-4570.

The center features special birthing rooms for those women who want to experience labor and delivery in the same bed. All rooms, including the waiting room, nurses station and nursery have been decorated with comforting touches, much like a home.

The concept of the Birthing Center at Annapolis resulted from patient demands for a more natural and comforting setting for the birth of their child. Wade Adams, hospital administrator, said.

In early 1988, Annapolis began an extensive renovation project which would transform the second floor of the hospital into the new birthing facility.

Rooms were redesigned to meet the comfort needs of new moms. Patient rooms were made larger and were equipped with specially designed showers and bathrooms. New birthing beds, which allow for various positions during delivery, were purchased to make the actual childbirth experience more comfortable. Also the most up-to-date obstetrical equipment was installed.

Nursing methods have also changed to make the new moms' stay a pleasant one.

"In the old days, separate nurses took care of the moms and babies," Richardson said. "This made it difficult for moms to ask questions about their individual needs as well as baby's needs. Now one nurse cares for both mom and baby, making that nurse the expert on the care and education needs of the family. The moms and dads really appreciate this kind of care."

Small-business tax changes are praised

By JIM RINK
ANP Staff Writer

A new state bill granting tax relief to small business owners is netting good reviews locally.

Public Act 390, affecting the state single business tax, was initiated in May 1988 as the result of a proposal made by Gov. James Blanchard during Michigan Small Business Days.

One of the major components of the act guarantees that any small business which does not make a profit within a given year does not have to pay any single business tax during that year.

Frank McMurray, owner of McMurray Insurance, in Canton Township, lobbied for the passage of PA 390 as a participant in the Michigan Conference on Small Business.

In 1988, he paid approximately $2,000 in single business tax. The money generated by the single business tax goes into the state general fund.

"One of the biggest things was that people who didn't make a profit at all had to pay a high tax," McMurray said. "The more money I made, the more I paid in single business tax."

McMurray said the new law will make it easier for small businesses to stay in business.

"There's no doubt when a business is faced with a lot of taxes - unemployment compensation, personal property tax, federal taxes - to stay in business you have to tack it on to the price of the product."

The new law provides a permanent single business tax cut of $8 million to $10 million for small businesses phased in over the next three years, according to state Rep. James

The new law provides a permanent single business tax cut of $8 million to $10 million for small businesses phased in over the next three years.

— James Kosteva
(D-Canton)

Kosteva (D-Canton).

"Recent reforms in the single business tax address the concern most often expressed by small businesses - that a business can have a tax liability even when it loses money," Kosteva said. "I supported legislation (PA 390) that changes the single business tax to a profit-based tax for small businesses."

The act will allow a qualified small business owner to determine every year whether he or she wants to pay the current single business tax with a 100 percent small business credit, or a 4 percent "profits-oriented" tax based on his or her adjusted business income.

To qualify for the alternative tax, an individual business owner must have an adjusted income of less than $475,000, and must not pay any one owner a salary of more than $95,000.

After a three-year, phase-in period, businesses would need less than $7.5 million in gross receipts to qualify. The current statutory exemption below which a business does not have to file a single business tax is $40,000. This exemption is phased up to $45,000 by 1993.

New housing plan to aid home-buyers

By BARBARA WILSON
ANP News Editor

Local real-estate agents are optimistic that the National Affordable Housing Act introduced by U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle (D-Flint) will be beneficial to most area home buyers.

"Any program that helps young people buy a home is great," said Dottie LeSuer, associate broker for Red Carpet-Keim, in Westland.

The legislation, still in the initial stages, would stop further restriction on the federal interest-tax deduction for first and second homes. Already proposed is a new cap on the amount of interest which may be deducted.

Some federal lawmakers believe the new cap would help ease the national debt.

"The mortgage interest deduction has been restricted twice by Congress during the last three years," Riegle said. "First, in 1986, when the deduction was limited to two homes, and, in 1987, when it was capped at $1 million of mortgage debt."

Riegle's legislation also calls for more affordable rental housing, increased first-time home ownership opportunities through the use of IRA's and Mortgage Revenue Bonds and establishment of a new Office of Affordable Housing Preservation.

"The dream of home ownership is becoming more distant for millions of working Americans and their families," Riegle said. "Young families can't save enough for a down payment. In many cases, they have to spend more than half their income for rent, rather than banking it for a home purchase."

LeSuer and Terry Rhoades, of Century 21 Hartford, in Canton Township, have received few details about the legislation. However, both agree that purchasing a home is difficult for young couples, especially those with families.

Interest rates not local worry

Increasing interest rates have not yet significantly impacted the local housing market, according to area real-estate agents.

"Things are a little slower than usual now, but there are still plenty of buyers out there," said Dottie LeSuer, associate broker for Red Carpet-Keim, in Westland.

The lack of movement in this market, LeSuer said, could be blamed on a lack of listings.

"People just seem to be hanging in there with the homes they have. But there are buyers waiting," she said.

Increases in the producers price-index during the past two months sent stock prices tumbling and are a threat of increasing inflation. Home-mortgage rates also increased within the past two months.

The home-mortgage interest rate is currently set at 11.375 percent for a 30-year fixed-rate loan.

Terry Rhoades, associate broker at Century 21 Hartford, in Canton Township, expects that interest rates won't increase much before they again decline.

Usually, when interest rates increase, home prices decline. However, home prices are currently remaining stable, LeSuer said.

The local banker might help explain that trend.

"The banks are keeping up by offering different types of packages," Rhoades said. "It just means that buyers have to plan more."

Tigers have the look of title contender

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville could shed the image of "also ran" and be a serious contender for the Wolverine 'A' Conference baseball title this season.

That's the message Coach John Bertz has for the Tigers' rivals this year. The Tigers, a 5-9 club a year ago in the league, have the pitching staff and overall strength to support Bertz's contention that his team will be among the leaders this year.

"I would be very disappointed if the Belleville Tigers did not contend," Bertz said. "I believe that Southgate will be the team to beat, but no one is going to look past us - they'll pay if they do."

Bertz has assembled one of the best-looking

Belleville pitching staffs in recent years. He has senior Phil Feist, a 6-1, 150-pound veteran returning to the mound. Feist posted a 6-2 record a year ago, and is looking to improve on that record when the Tigers take to the field on April 8 in their season opener.

Belleville opens with Livonia Franklin at home in a non-conference doubleheader.

Bertz also has several other good-looking hurlers on the roster: Kelley O'Neal, a righthanded senior who sat out his junior year with a broken leg, is back in action; Mike Coleman, a junior with an even .500 (3-3) record a year ago; and Jeremy Ison, a versatile athlete that quarterbacked the football team and was a member of the Tiger basketball team, look ready for mound duty. However, Ison doesn't have any varsity experience.

Two other pitching prospects - Brad Byrd, a 5-11, 240-pound right-hander who has an effective curve ball to go along with a fastball, and "Taco" Martinez, a 6-5, 270-pound right-hander, also are trying to break into the starting rotation.

Bertz and the Tigers got away from the erratic Michigan weather and traveled to Cocoa, Florida during the spring vacation to prepare for the upcoming season.

"The trip gave us an opportunity to train and practice out-of-doors," Bertz said, "and it put us ahead of our schedule."

Unfortunately, the weather in Michigan has taken a turn for the worst as rain and snow showers greeted the players this week.

He's only a sophomore, but Tyrone Wheatley has already established himself as one of the premier high school athletes in the state.

The 16-year-old Robichaud High athlete picked up where he left off a year ago - in the winner's circle. The Suburban Athletic Conference champ in the long jump and the 100-yard dash a year ago, Wheatley came up with superlative performances last Thursday at the prestigious Spartan Relays at Michigan State in East Lansing.

Wheatley cleared 6 feet 8 to win the high jump competition and established a Robichaud record en route to the gold. He shattered the 1975 mark of 6 feet, 5 set by former Bulldog great, Everett Charleston.

Wheatley added two more winning performances, claiming gold in the long jump with a 22 feet, 6 1/2 inch leap, and the 55-meter dash, a distance he covered in 6:26 seconds.

"He's just an outstanding athlete," said Robichaud Coach Jeff Flounory, who will open the SAC phase of the season on Thursday against Ecorse. "And his potential is just phenomenal."

Wheatley's all-around effort staked the Bulldogs to a second place finish at the relays.

Robichaud also received a third-place finish in the shot put from Rod James, who had a toss of 49 feet, 4 3/4. And James Gee was fifth in the high hurdles.

Flounory's 4 X 200 relay was the third best in the field thanks to Fred Mathews, Myckle Hart, Ernest Baskins and Wheatley who were clocked in 1:36.7, while the 4 X 400 relay of Gee, Mathews, Eric Thomas and Carl Brown had the fourth best time in the event, (3:33.9).

The Bulldogs' shuttle hurdle relay team of Gee, Damien Roberson, Joe Wallace and Robert Stewart finished fifth.

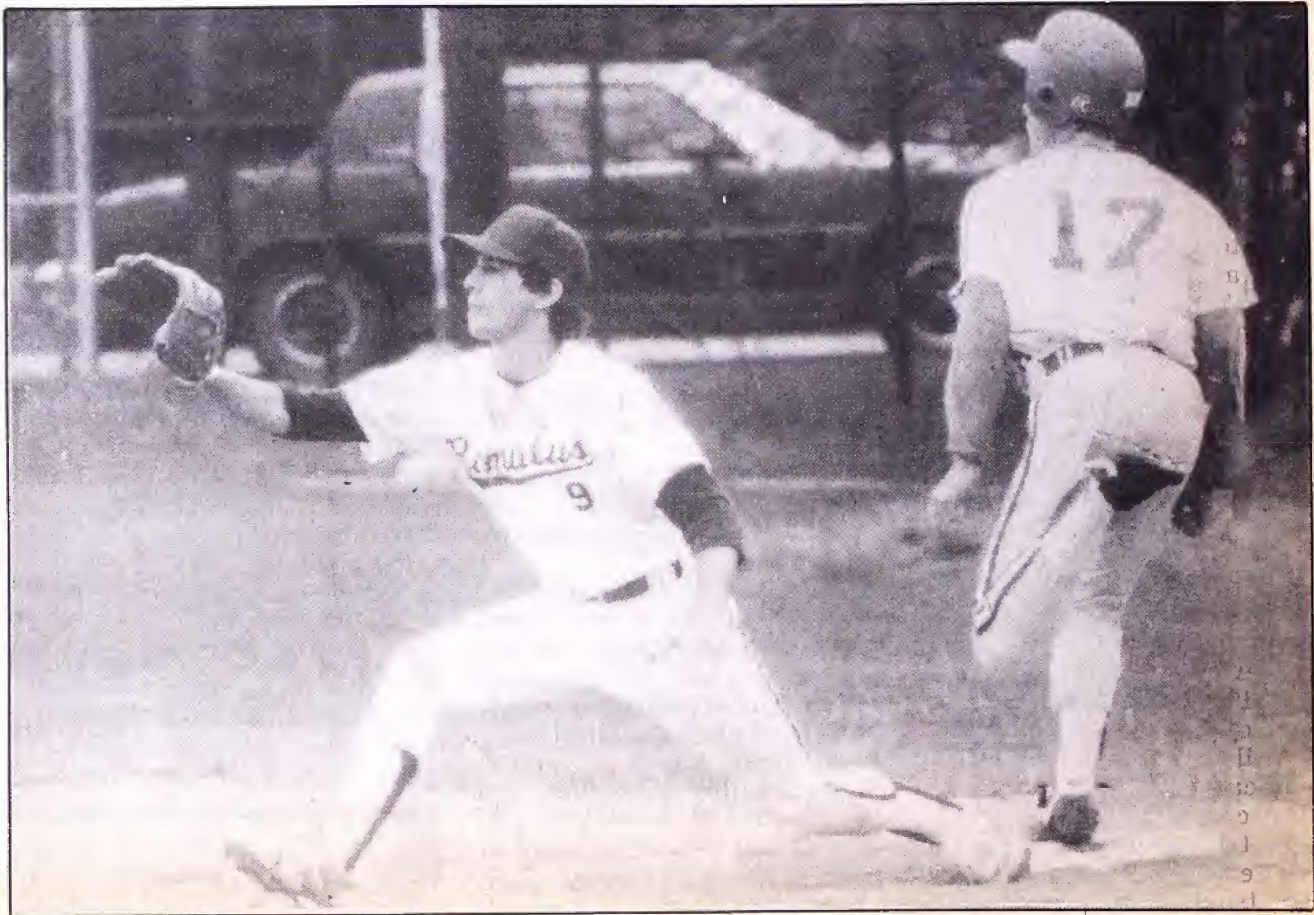

Earlier, the Bulldogs participated in the Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan University and surfaced with an overall 10th place.

However, Wheatley got his share of gold, winning the 55 meter dash in 6.6 and the long jump with a 22 feet, 7 performance. He was eighth, however, in the high jump, thanks to a leap of 6 feet, 2.

Robichaud's shuttle hurdle relay team was sixth with Gee, Roberson, Wallace and Stewart combining for a 34.38. Gee also was sixth in the hurdles (8.7).

Robichaud, a third-place finisher a year ago in the SAC, will have to beat out River Rouge, the defending champ, and perennial threat, Highland Park, if the Bulldogs want the conference crown.

"Rouge is definitely the team to beat, with Highland Park a close second," Flounory said. "But I believe we will be in the dogfight for it."

Who'll be king of diamonds?

The high school sports scene switches from indoors to outdoors this week as baseball becomes king of the diamonds. Weather permitting, most local teams will see their first action of the 1989 campaign, with Romulus opening up with a doubleheader today at Taylor Truman.

After horrendous year, Romulus is regrouping

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Coach Dennis Stoh isn't making any predictions for the 1989 baseball season.

Stoh, in his 15th season as the Eagles' baseball coach, remembers 1988 when his club finished with an horrendous 4-24 overall record.

"If they would have told me before the season last year that my team would have had that kind of record, I would have said, 'no way', but it happened. This year, I am not going to make any predictions, however, I will say that these kids have a positive attitude, and that they are working hard."

They will have to. Saddled to the South Central Conference, one of the toughest all-around athletic conferences in the state, and playing Taylor Kennedy and Truman, traditionally two of the finest baseball schools around, the Eagles have had more than their share of problems remaining afloat.

This year, it isn't going to be any easier for Stoh and the Eagles. They will open up 3 p.m. today, weather permitting, with a doubleheader against Taylor Truman.

Romulus has key holdovers from last year's lineup who could help the Eagles forget the terrible 1988 campaign. Leading the list is catcher Shawn Shelby, who batted .283 (over .300 in the conference) and was awarded a SCC conference berth a year ago. The team leader and captain, Shelby is the foundation upon which Stoh hopes the Eagles can build.

Romulus fans also won't need a scorecard to identify the Eagle outfield. Returning are Chris Labiak, a centerfielder who batted .302 a year ago; Glenn Beach, a senior is also back in the lineup after hitting .294 a year ago. Eddie King, a junior, rounds out the outfield.

See EAGLES, page P-5

Dennis Stoh, (at left) the dean of the area high school baseball coaches, is preparing to field his 15th team at Romulus High School. He's cautiously optimistic about the Eagles' chances of climbing out of the cellar of the tough South Central Conference.

Wolverine 'A' is power-packed in track

The talented Wolverine 'A' Conference again will be packed with power this year.

"In fact, I can see some of the athletes in our conference who could be ranked among the top 10 in the state, but will not place in our conference meet," said Dave Medley, Belleville High coach. "Monroe dominated the state in cross country, and those kids will be back in the half-mile, mile, 2-mile and relays. It should be a fascinating year to watch what these kids accomplish."

Medley, who has coached the Tigers since 1976 before taking off for a two-year stint to earn his masters, looks for defending conference champ, Wayne Memorial, and Monroe to continue to wage a battle for the conference title.

"We have some outstanding athletes," Medley said, "and we are going to get our share of victories but, overall, it looks like Monroe and Wayne again."

Belleville will open the 1989 dual meet season on April 13 against Fordson, a conference rival. The Tigers finished with a 4-3 record a year ago.

The Tigers probably have the best sprinter in the conference and area in Virgil Chandler, a senior who captured three gold medals a year ago in the Wolverine 'A'. The 18-year-old senior is the defending champ in the 100 and 220, and also ran a leg on the winning 880-relay team.

Also returning to the Tiger lineup are Mike Gentry, a stellar quarter-miler who, along with senior Chris Rolinatis, also a 440-man, will make Belleville a threat in their specialty. Then, there's senior Gary Griffin, a half-miler who is also will be shooting for the gold.

"We're looking forward to the 1989 season," Medley added. "I think it should be a very exciting one."

Tigers are hurting

Despite the return of Valentine Stumpf, a premier distance runner, the Lady Tigers at Belleville High will be hurting in track and field this year.

Stumpf, one of the best mile and 2-milers in the Wolverine 'A' Conference last year as a freshman, is expected to be even better in her sophomore campaign as the Tigers jockey for a run at the conference championships.

However, Belleville has lost two blue chip performers in conference champs Rosemary Hampton and Carol Tyson.

Hampton, an outstanding long jumper who was part of the winning Tiger relay teams, has moved to the city of Inkster. In the meantime, Belleville lost Tyson, who won the 100 and 220-yard conference crowns a year ago, when she moved to North Carolina.

Schedules, please

The Associated Newspapers' sports staff is urging local high school athletic directors to either drop off or mail their spring sports schedules as soon as possible.

The ANP staff also urges ADs to include the names and the home telephone numbers of all new coaches, so that our staff can contact them during the season.

Schedules may be dropped off at or mailed to: Associated Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, MI. 48184. Telephone Tom Mooradian, staff writer, at 729-4000, for further information.

Athletic directors are also encouraged to keep the won-lost records of their individual teams. A member of the ANP staff will be contacting ADs Monday mornings for the records so that they can be published in the ANP prep sports standings.

Romulus has key runners returning

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Despite the return of only a handful of runners to the nest and the absence of some key performers, the Eagles of Romulus look with optimism to the 1989 track & field season.

Moreover, Coach Al Wilkerson and his thinclads have the shadows of defending South Central Conference champ, Ann Arbor Huron, and such powerhouses such as Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Pioneer to contend with.

"It's not going to be easy," Wilkerson warns, "but it never is. The SCC has a lot of talent. We have some fine prospects back, but there are kids who took jobs and they won't be returning to our roster."

Wilkerson had an opportunity to test his 1989 club Tuesday night against out-of-conference rival, Taylor Center. They are also at home today to Garden

City, another nonconference foe.

Wilkerson has one of the finest sprinters in the SCC in senior Duane Bosley, who is the defending league champ in the 220. Bosley will team with returning letterwinner Keith Merritt in the speed relays, however, the Romulus coach will have to come up with two others to complete the lineup.

The Eagles will be respectable in the distance events as sophomore Dennis Tessin and Tim Gondek return to the one and two-mile runs. Then there is Andre Peters, a 21-foot jumper in the long jump. Hurdler Ed Morgan is a freshman who has plenty of potential but lacks the experience.

Romulus has an outstanding prospect in the middle distances in Izell Watkins.

"We're thin in numbers," Wilkerson noted, "but I feel these kids have a lot of pride. What we lack in numbers, we make up in with quality."

Huron begins new era in baseball

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

New Boston Huron will greet the 1989 high school baseball season with a new coach.

Bill Spiecker will replace Jon Labeau as head varsity baseball coach.

"It's somewhat of a challenge," said Spiecker, who inherits a team that won only one of their 20 games last year. "We have a lot of rebuilding to do, and I am looking forward to it."

"And, right now, we're trying to put together a lineup that can win some ball games."

Spiecker will receive his baptismal from Southgate Aquinas, a school noted for its athletic talent. The two Class B clubs will meet on April 11.

Spiecker has four returning seniors who will become the nucleus for his first team. In that foursome is Mike Debozy, a 6-0 senior who is the key to the Chiefs' pitching rotation.

"Mike is an excellent athlete," Spiecker said. "And I believe if he gets the support, he'll have a good year."

And what kind of year is Spiecker looking for?

"Obviously, we would like a winning season," Spiecker replied. "However, we have to be realistic. We have some traditionally good baseball teams in the Huron Conference, and I don't even know when we (Huron High) has even had a

In the infield, Belleville's lineup will include Jerry Bitner at first; Feist, when not on the mound, will take over the second baseman's responsibility; O'Neal is at short, while Vince Sacco, a junior who can really lace a ball, has nailed down the third baseman's job.

The outfield also has a look of experience. However, one veteran outfielder, Scott Janack, will probably miss opening day due to an ankle in-

The infield will include Ken Blevins, a 6-2 first baseman who was the designated hitter a year ago; sophomores Eddie Tank and Rich Evans are working out at short and second, respectively. Three candidates are battling it out for the starting third baseman's job.

Pitching, the key to any team's ambitions, is untested. But Stoh hopes to solve the problem with the trio of Shelby, Tank and Evans. A year ago, Blevins drew the tough assignments, getting the starting call

Year of the Tiger? Belleville may be queen of diamond

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Monroe High replaced Belleville as the queen of the softball diamond in the Wolverine 'A' Conference last year.

And Belleville, winner of two consecutive Class A state championships in 1983-84 may just have the power hitters to return to the good old days.

"The team looks pretty good," said Coach Peggy Curtis whose club a year ago amassed a 28-6 record. "We have some long-ball hitters and a pretty solid pitcher returning to the team."

The power hitters come in the form of Cathy Murphy, Lisa Bishop and Christy Garrett who have earned All-Area consideration in the sport.

Brandi Price, the key to the pitching rotation, and Becky Preston, a second baseman, are the other two seniors.

Price has excellent control and "she's good because she can make the hitter hit her pitch," the Belleville coach pointed out.

Belleville has produced some outstanding pitchers in the past, and Price could follow in the Tiger tradition.

"The key this year is whether the seniors can carry us," said Curtis. "I believe they can."

Belleville will not have much time to waste. They will open the 1989 season on April 11 against none other than Wolverine 'A' Conference opponent, Dearborn Fordson. Fordson has always fielded respectable softball teams, but they have never been a match for the Tigers. However, this year the Tractors could make up for past performances.

With Bishop behind the plate for the fourth consecutive season; Price on the mound, Preston at second, and Garrett in center field, the Tigers are solid "up the middle". They also have veteran Murphy at short.

But the other positions are up for grabs and until the voids are filled, it's questionable just how the Tigers will fare in 1989.

After winning their Class A district title a year ago, Belleville reached the finals of the regionals where they lost to Taylor Center. TC went on to reach the state finals before losing.

With only five returning veterans, Curtis doesn't expect a return of the good old days when Belleville dominated the softball scene.

But the Tiger mentor feels that "no team will take us lightly. They never have in the past; and I don't see any reason why they would this year."
